

POP & PRINT

Omega5 has a keen eye for detail and is dedicated to your overall project objectives. Whether your needs are strictly limited to single page flyers or large format point-of-purchase materials, we take the time to explore your current identity to ensure continuity and that you are getting the most out of your individual projects.

WE help you...

> Get the most out of your designs

Print projects require an understanding of your budget and adherence to timeline specifics. Helping you maintain your company's identity, our creative team will offer suggestions to maximize the efficiency of each print piece.

> Develop high quality print ready files

We use the latest software to create designs that are 100% compliant to today's always changing standards. Your files can be electronically transferred to any in the world and as an Omega5 client you will have access to a secure FTP site. We also offer you a printer tendering service. For a nominal fee we will search out the best and most economical printer for your project, allowing you to save both time and money.
